QUESTION 1 - COMPREHENSION

20 MARKS

Refer to TEXT 1, on pages 1 and 2 of the insert, entitled “As the dust settles on off-field controversies, let the World Cup soccer begin” by Yanga Sebembe and answer the questions that follow.

1.1 Refer to the title.

The title contains the idiomatic expression “As the dust settles.” Explain the meaning of the idiomatic expression in the context of the article. (2)

The idiomatic expression “as the dust settles” means that a period of confusion, controversy or excitement is coming to an end and the situation is becoming clearer. In the context of the article, it suggests that attention is beginning to shift away from the political and social controversies surrounding the World Cup and towards the football tournament itself.

1.2 Refer to paragraph 1.

1.2.1. What is the writer’s intention in beginning the article with a reference to Qatar? Provide ONE relevant quote to support your answer. (3)

The writer’s intention is to show that controversy surrounding FIFA World Cup host nations is not a new phenomenon, thereby introducing the article’s central argument that off-field issues often overshadow the tournament itself. “It was the same four years ago.” This quotation highlights that the controversies surrounding the 2026 World Cup are similar to those that surrounded Qatar before the 2022 tournament, establishing a pattern that continues throughout the article.

A 3 mark question that requires multi-structural thinking. Demonstrates understanding, application, analysis, inferential comprehension of implied and figurative meanings
Marks	Skills
3	The excellent response: - engages with all aspects of the question and provides the required evidence - indicates a clear understanding of the significance of each element
2 ½	The good response: - is multi-structural, but not integrated or - is convincing but incomplete - provides evidence if required
2	The average response: - is either one-dimensional, without sufficient evidence, or is superficial and general - does not provide enough relevant justification - demonstrates that the candidate understands the issue
1 ½	The incomplete response: - demonstrates a flawed or incomplete understanding of what has been asked - indicates an understanding of the text - attempts to use the text to answer the question, but reasoning is concrete or simplistic
0 – 1	The inadequate response: indicates only partial understanding of this aspect of the text

1.2.2 Refer to the following Cartoon.

How does the cartoon support the writer's overall argument that modern World Cups are influenced by issues beyond football? Refer to both visual and verbal elements in your answer. (3)

The cartoon supports the writer's argument by showing that political and social controversies have become as prominent as football itself. Visually, the stadium is surrounded by protest signs referring to war, human rights and discrimination, while the scoreboard displays issues such as border tensions and diplomatic disputes instead of match information. The commentator's statement, "Kick-off delayed... Politics still on the field," reinforces the idea that political matters are overshadowing the sporting event.

0 – 1	The inadequate response: indicates only partial understanding of this aspect of the text

1.3 Refer to paragraphs 2 and 3.

Explain the irony in Infantino's statement that Europe should not give moral lessons to others. (2)

Europe has criticised others while having a history of colonialism and exploitation itself. It has certainly not behaved morally and should be forced to apologise for all the wrongs it has done.

1.4. Refer to paragraph 4.

Consider the following definition of sportswashing:

Sportswashing is the practice of using major sporting events, teams, or sponsorships to improve a country's or organisation's public image, often to distract attention from controversial issues such as human rights abuses, political conflict, or corruption.

How does Mr Infantino's statement reflect the concept of sportswashing? (2)

The statement reflects sportswashing because it suggests that the World Cup is being used to improve Russia's international reputation despite underlying political controversies.

1.5 Refer to paragraph 5.

According to the article, why was South Africa's 2010 World Cup initially viewed with scepticism? (2)

Infrastructure concerns and the 2008 xenophobic unrest suggesting instability/unsafe conditions

1.6. Refer to paragraph 6.

How does the diction used in this paragraph position the United States in relation to the other 2026 World Cup co-hosts (Mexico and Canada)? (3)

The diction positions the United States as the primary source of controversy among the three co-hosts. While Mexico and Canada are briefly mentioned as facing criticism, the writer emphasises that "it is the US that has hogged the limelight." The phrase "hogged the limelight" suggests that the United States has attracted the greatest amount of attention, implying that its political and human rights issues have overshadowed the comparatively less significant concerns surrounding Mexico and Canada. This positions the US as the most controversial and scrutinised of the three co-host nations.

1.7. Refer to paragraph 7.

Critically evaluate whether Donald Trump is a worthy recipient of the FIFA Peace Prize. Support your opinion with evidence from the article. (3)

Trump is arguably not a worthy recipient because the article presents him as a divisive political figure, rather than someone who unifies people, which contradicts the purpose of a "Peace Prize." The text highlights his involvement in controversial and conflict-driven political actions, such as joining a war against Iran, which undermines the idea of promoting peace. The FIFA Peace Prize is intended for individuals who unite people through sport and peace-building actions, but Trump's image in the passage suggests the opposite.

QUESTION 2 - SUMMARY

10 MARKS

Refer to TEXT 2A and TEXT 2B on pages 3 and 4 of the insert.

You have been asked by your Local Councillor to address all the students at the College who are eligible to vote. Using TEXTS 2A and 2B as your only sources, write the speech that you will present to these students at assembly encouraging young people to vote.

- Your summary must be in the form of one paragraph, using no more than 90 words.
- Provide an accurate word count at the end of your summary.
- Your language must be accurate and in an appropriate register.
- Use your own words. 'Cutting and pasting' of information is not acceptable.

Global marking, giving credit for concise and coherent sentences expressed in the candidate's own words.

Excellent	Very Good	Good	Average	Below average	Weak	Very weak
10	8	7	6	5	4	3

Excellent: (10 – 9)

- Candidates producing a very good summary, which has adhered to all instructions, will demonstrate that they can successfully select relevant information from the different parts of the texts.
- Candidates will expertly synthesise that information to suit the new context and fulfil the specific requirements of the summary task.
- Candidates have employed an appropriate, convincing style for the form of the summary and this is enhanced by a sustained voice.
- Candidates will show a sustained, insightful awareness of audience and purpose.
- The register will be consistently appropriate to the format, and the summary will stand alone as a successful, cohesive text.
- Expression will be excellent and will demonstrate a mastery of the language.
- Full and coherent sentences will be used resulting in a well-crafted, stylistically superior text.

Very Good: (8)

- A candidate producing a very good summary will be able to discern which aspects of the texts are relevant and will be able to synthesise these and convey them in his/her own words.
- The summary will successfully meet most of the requirements specified in the instructions.
- Candidates have employed an appropriate style and voice for the form of the summary although there may be minor lapses.
- Candidates will show an awareness of audience and purpose.
- Candidates will use the appropriate register for the format, and this will be well sustained throughout the summary.
- The expression in such summaries will demonstrate clarity that is not evident in the average summary.
- Full and coherent sentences will be used and will be well sustained throughout the summary.

Good: (7)

- A candidate producing a good summary will demonstrate an ability to discern which aspects of the texts are relevant and will be able to put these into his/her own words.
- The summary may not engage with all the requirements specified in the instructions.
- There may be instances of lifting or lapses in correct selection and emphasis, or lapses in synthesis.

- Candidates display an awareness of an appropriate style and voice for the form of the summary although there are clear lapses.
- Candidates will show an awareness of audience and purpose although there may be lapses.
- The register will be well-sustained, although minor lapses may occur.
- Expression will be clear and competent although slight lapses in the construction of full sentences may be evident.

Good: (6)

- A candidate producing a good summary will demonstrate an ability to discern which aspects of the texts are relevant and will be able to put these into his/her own words most of the time.
- The summary might not take into consideration the most important requirements specified in the instructions.
- There is likely to be instances of lifting or lapses that demonstrate faulty selection, incorrect focus and/or purpose, or some awkward synthesis.
- Candidates may not have given sufficient thought to the appropriate style and voice for the form of the summary.
- Candidates will show some awareness of audience and purpose.
- The register will mostly be appropriate for the format, although there may be instances of inconsistency.
- Expression will be merely competent, and sentences may not always be grammatically complete.

Below average: (5)

- A candidate producing a below average summary will demonstrate an ability – some of the time – to discern which parts of the texts are relevant but may not be able to put this into his/her own words effectively.
- In some instances, sections of the original texts will be lifted and reproduced.
- Candidates have employed an appropriate style and voice for the form of the summary although there may be minor lapses.
- Candidates are not cognisant of the appropriate style and voice for the form of the summary.
- Candidates will show glancing awareness of audience and purpose.
- The register may not be appropriate for the format OR the new text will not reflect the requirements of the task.
- Expression is likely to be flawed in places but will not impede understanding.

Very Weak: (4)

- Summaries in this category will demonstrate limited understanding of the texts.
- This will be evident through difficulty in selecting appropriate parts of the texts to meet the purpose or through large portions of lifting.
- Candidates will not demonstrate an appropriate style and voice for the form of the summary.
- Candidates will likely not demonstrate an awareness of audience and purpose.
- Register may be inconsistent and will not show an understanding of the audience or purpose.
- Expression is likely to be poor, impeding understanding and attempts at synthesis may be jarring.

Weak: (3 – 1)

- Summaries in this category will show extremely limited – if any – understanding of the texts.
- This will be evident through an inability to select appropriate parts of the texts to summarise or through excessive cutting and pasting.
- Candidates have not employed the appropriate style and/or voice for the form of the summary.
- Candidates will not have taken audience and purpose into account.
- Register will not be appropriate for the format.

- Expression is persistently poor, impeding the marker's understanding of the summary.

NOTE:

- Write words from the descriptor to indicate your thinking.
- Stop reading at 100 words.
- Subtract 1 mark:
 - o If 94 words or more
 - o if no word count is provided, or
 - o if an inexcusably inaccurate word count has been provided.

QUESTION 3 - SEEN POETRY

15 MARKS

Refer to the poems “The Thought Fox” (TEXT 3A) by Ted Hughes and “The Jaguar” (TEXT 3B) by Ted Hughes on pages X of the insert and answer the questions below.

3.1 Refer to the title, The Thought-Fox.

Explain how the title introduces the central idea of the poem. (2)

The title combines “thought” and “fox”, showing immediately that the fox is more than just an animal. It suggests that the fox symbolises an idea, inspiration, or the creative process.

3.2 Refer to line 4.

What does the imagery in this line suggest about the speaker’s state of mind? (2)

The “blank page” suggests that the speaker has no ideas yet, while “my fingers move” shows that he is trying to write. This reflects his state of mind because he feels uncertain and is searching for inspiration, even though nothing has come to him yet.

3.3 Refer to line 21.

What does the alliteration in this line suggest about how a creative thought enters the mind? (2)

The alliteration suggests that a creative idea does not enter the mind gently or gradually. Instead, it comes suddenly, like a fox appearing out of nowhere, and is immediately vivid and intense. The harsh sounds also emphasize the idea’s powerful impact on the poet’s senses, making inspiration feel instinctive, energetic, and impossible to ignore.

Refer to “The Jaguar” (TEXT 3B) and answer the questions that follow.

3.4 Discuss the effectiveness of the simile “Like cheap tarts” in describing the behaviour of the parrots. (2)

The simile “Like cheap tarts” suggests that the parrots are showy, loud and not very important. It makes them seem fake and only there to entertain people, which shows that they are behaving unnaturally and are stripped of real vitality in their confined environment.

3.5 Comment on the shift in tone between stanzas 2 and 3 of the poem. (3)

In Stanza 2, the tone is dull, repetitive, and almost weary. Hughes lists the zoo animals in a way that suggests boredom and confinement, creating a sense of lifeless routine. The diction here reinforces stagnation and artificial enclosure. “Is a fossil” “cage after cage seems empty” “breathing straw” “lie still”

In Stanza 3, the tone shifts dramatically to one of energy, intensity, and excitement when the jaguar is introduced. The language becomes vivid and dynamic, emphasising movement, power, and wildness. “Jaguar hurrying enraged”

A 3 mark question that requires multi-structural thinking. Demonstrates understanding, application, analysis, inferential comprehension of implied and figurative meanings
Marks	Skills
3	The excellent response: - engages with all aspects of the question and provides the required evidence - indicates a clear understanding of the significance of each element
2½	The good response: - is multi-structural, but not integrated or - is convincing but incomplete - provides evidence if required
2	The average response: - is either one-dimensional, without sufficient evidence, or is superficial and general - does not provide enough relevant justification - demonstrates that the candidate understands the issue
1½	The incomplete response: - demonstrates a flawed or incomplete understanding of what has been asked - indicates an understanding of the text - attempts to use the text to answer the question, but reasoning is concrete or simplistic
0 – 1	The inadequate response: indicates only partial understanding of this aspect of the text

3.6 Consider The Thought-Fox and The Jaguar.

Critically discuss how Hughes uses the animals’ movement in both poems to explore the idea of control and freedom. Quote from both poems to support your answer. (4)

The Thought-Fox, the movement is slow and careful, which shows how an idea forms step by step in the poet’s mind. This suggests a sense of control over the creative process. “Sets neat prints into the snow” Suddenly, the thought arrives like the fox’s sudden movement. “With sudden sharp hot stink” . In The Jaguar, the movement is strong and energetic, showing that the jaguar cannot be controlled, even though it is in a cage. “ short fierce fuse” spins from the bars” This represents freedom and power. Hughes uses movement in both poems to show different types of freedom – creative freedom in one, and physical or inner freedom in the other.

A 4 mark question that requires relational thinking. Demonstrates understanding, application, analysis, complex inference or synthesis. This answer could require evaluation or appreciation.
Marks	Skills
4	The excellent response: - is complete, addressing all aspects of the question and drawing them together accurately. links all the ideas and provides the required evidence. - demonstrates understanding applied to familiar contexts. integrates all elements, making connections and demonstrating a clear understanding of how the parts contribute to the whole.
3–3½	The good response: - shows that the significance of each element is understood, but an aspect of the answer is not clearly explained. or - addresses each element, but does not successfully link them. - is not entirely convincing and/or does not convey a clear understanding of how the parts contribute to the whole.
2½	The average response: - is multi-structural, but addresses the elements in an incomplete or flawed way. does not link elements or does not demonstrate an understanding of the significance of the elements. omits or misunderstands a key element.
2	The incomplete response: - is one-dimensional, omitting more than one element. - indicates a flawed understanding of the question and/or the text(s).
1–1½	The very partial response: - attempts to address aspects of the question, but indicates only partial understanding. - does not answer the question because of a lack of understanding.
0–1	The inadequate response: attempts to deal with only one aspect of the question, but does so very poorly. Very limited understanding displayed.

QUESTION 4 - UNSEEN POETRY

15 MARKS

Refer to the poems "Sleeping in the Forest" (TEXT 4A) by Mary Oliver and "The Darkness" (TEXT 4B) by Courtney Watson on pages x of the insert and answer the questions that follow.

4.1 Refer to lines 1–4 .

Explain the relationship between the speaker and nature in these lines. (3)

The speaker shows a very close and peaceful relationship with nature. In lines 1–4, she lies down in the forest without fear, suggesting that she feels safe and completely at ease in this environment. Nature is presented as welcoming and protective, almost like a place where she belongs. This shows that the speaker does not see herself as separate from nature, but rather as part of it. "She took me back tenderly" "i slept"

1 ½	The incomplete response: - demonstrates a flawed or incomplete understanding of what has been asked - indicates an understanding of the text - attempts to use the text to answer the question, but reasoning is concrete or simplistic

4.2 Refer to lines 10-12.

Explain how the personification used in these lines enhances the mood of the poem. (3)

The personification in the line: "the kingdoms are breathing" refers to the elements of nature (kingdoms of insects) that are described in a way that gives them human-like qualities of breathing. It also helps to create a calm and soothing atmosphere, showing how the speaker is able to relax and let go of her worries as she becomes part of nature.

0 – 1	The inadequate response: indicates only partial understanding of this aspect of the text

Refer to TEXT 4A and TEXT 4B and answer the questions below.

- 4.3 Discuss how each poet uses contrasting imagery to convey their message. Refer closely to both poems in your response. (4)

In Sleeping in the Forest, nature imagery is gentle and comforting, which suggests that vulnerability is something peaceful and safe. The speaker allows herself to be open and unprotected because she trusts the natural world. “slept as never before” “nothing between me” “i rose and fell in the water” “ by morning I had vanished at least a dozen times into something better.”

In contrast, The Darkness uses imagery of shadows and darkness to show vulnerability as something more frightening and uncertain. The darkness represents fear or the unknown, making the speaker feel exposed and uneasy. These differences show that vulnerability can be experienced in both a positive and a negative way, depending on the situation and environment. “Whoop of the hye a” “ impala barks in sudden panic “ “ baboon protests” “ blackness of shadow”

A 4 mark question that requires relational thinking . Demonstrates understanding, application, analysis, complex inference or synthesis. This answer could require evaluation or appreciation.

QUESTION 5 - VISUAL LITERACY15 MARKS

Refer to TEXT 5A, TEXT 5B, TEXT 5C ____ on page ____ of the insert. Examine all the texts before attempting to answer the questions.

Refer to TEXT 5A

5.1 Explain how the visual metaphor enhances the intention of this advertisement.

(3)

The visual metaphor of the sling attached to the seat of a car suggests that if passengers in the back seat of a car do not wear their seat belts, they could be flung from the car like a stone from a sling shot. This could cause extreme harm in the event of an accident.

The visual details support the intention to raise awareness that all passengers should wear their seatbelts, whether they are sitting in the front seat or the back seat of a car.

A 3 mark question that requires multi-structural thinking. Demonstrates understanding, application, analysis, inferential comprehension of implied and figurative meanings
Marks	Skills
3	The excellent response: - engages with all aspects of the question and provides the required evidence - indicates a clear understanding of the significance of each element
2 ½	The good response: - is multi-structural, but not integrated or - is convincing but incomplete - provides evidence if required
2	The average response: - is either one-dimensional, without sufficient evidence, or is superficial and general - does not provide enough relevant justification - demonstrates that the candidate understands the issue

0 – 1	The inadequate response: indicates only partial understanding of this aspect of the text

5.2 Suggest how the emotional impact of the advertisement would shift if a child was used in the image rather than an adult.

By using a child, the emotional impact would be stronger, causing people/parents to feel guilty for not putting a seatbelt on a child in the car. A child's life is considered valuable and therefore the loss of a child in an accident would be considered even worse than that of an adult.

5.3 What is the function of the apostrophe in “seat’s”?

Apostrophe of contraction - seat is...

Refer to TEXT 5B

5.3 Comment on the relevance of using “46” as a visual pun in the advertisement.

(3)

The numbers '46' indicate the speed of the car that has just passed the board. It is evident that the car is travelling too fast and should have been going at 25 miles per hour. The '46' also suggests that if the car is travelling too fast and is involved in an accident, the driver will spend 46 days in hospital after having sustained serious injuries. The police department wants to encourage drivers to drive slower to avoid fatalities and serious injuries.

A 3 mark question that requires multi-structural thinking. Demonstrates understanding, application, analysis, inferential comprehension of implied and figurative meanings
Marks	Skills
3	The excellent response: - engages with all aspects of the question and provides the required evidence - indicates a clear understanding of the significance of each element
2 ½	The good response: - is multi-structural, but not integrated or - is convincing but incomplete - provides evidence if required
2	The average response: - is either one-dimensional, without sufficient evidence, or is superficial and general - does not provide enough relevant justification - demonstrates that the candidate understands the issue

0 – 1	The inadequate response: indicates only partial understanding of this aspect of the text

5.4 Explain whether “46 days in hospital bed” is grammatically correct. (2)

This phrase is not grammatically correct, there is a preposition missing. There is no subject in this phrase or a finite verb.

Refer to TEXT 5C

5.5 Write a dictionary definition for “tailgating”. Provide the part of speech and the definition of the word. (2)

tailgating: (noun)

Driving too closely to another vehicle that can cause a serious accident.

5.6 Consider the sentence, “Tailgating isn’t worth it.” To what, in your opinion, could “it” be referring? (2)

“It” refers to your life being more valuable than tailgating and causing an accident. The “it” could also refer to you losing the lives of any passengers who may be in the car, or the damage and trouble you would have to deal with post an accident that destroys your car.

Refer to TEXT 5C and TEXT 5D.

- 5.7 Critically discuss which advertisement is more effective in raising awareness for the need for safe driving. Your response must refer to the visual and verbal elements in both texts. (5)

TEXT 5C indicates a car driving too close to a very large truck and rear-ending it causing much damage to the truck and the car. The visual is shown by the compressed billboard referring to the smash of the car into the truck. The verbal details, “tailgating isn’t worth it” suggests that cars that drive too closely to trucks cause serious accidents because they don’t follow the rules for a safe following distance. This will endanger the lives of the passengers as well as the driver.

TEXT 5D shows a man on his phone, while his wife is looking at a map and discussing something with him. Both of them are distracted by their activities and neither is watching the road as a child crosses the road. This advert suggests that the child crossing the road could be the same as the child in the back of their car and by hitting the child, they will be affecting their own family as the same thing could happen to their child. The verbal details of “think of both sides” encourages drivers to consider all perspectives and maintain focus on the roads to avoid tragedy.

A choice must be made for one or the other text and explain which one is more effective in raising awareness for safe driving.

A 5-mark question that requires extended abstract thinking. The response demonstrates understanding, application, analysis, complex inference and/or synthesis, evaluation, or appreciation.
Marks	Skills
5	The excellent response: - is complete and detailed, making specific reference to more than one element of the required text(s). makes insightful links between the question and the text(s). provides evidence that understanding can be transferred to a new context. integrates all elements, making connections and demonstrating a clear understanding of how the parts contribute to the whole.
4	The very good response: makes specific reference to the required text(s). - makes accurate links between the question and the text(s). - provides evidence that understanding can be applied to familiar contexts. integrates the key elements, making connections and demonstrating a clear understanding of how the parts contribute to the whole.
3	The average response: - refers to the required text(s) in a general way without addressing all aspects. - makes simple, underdeveloped links between the question and the text(s) - could be complete, without the required references or evidence. does not demonstrate an understanding of the significance of the whole determined (does not clarify/establish the significance of the whole).
2	The incomplete response: - refers to the text(s) in a general way. - is inaccurate or simplistic. - demonstrates concrete thinking and an incomplete understanding of the elements.
1	The very partial response: refers to the text(s). - does not answer the question because of a lack of understanding. - attempts to deal with only one aspect of the question but does so very poorly. very limited understanding displayed.
0	The inadequate response: no understanding, a flawed response.

QUESTION 6 - LANGUAGE10 MARKS

Refer to TEXT 6 on page of the insert and then answer the questions that follow.

6.1 Refer to lines 3 and 4:

“the epicentre located along the San Felipe–Yumare–Montalbán axis”

Explain the function of the hyphen in this phrase. (1)

Compound adjective

6.2 Identify and correct the grammatical error in paragraph 2. (2)

Error or concord - “the authorities report” not “reports”.

6.3 Identify the malapropism used in paragraph 2. (2)

effected - affected

6.4 “The United Nations and its partner organizations continue implementing response activities and scaling up assistance.”

6.4.1 Rewrite the sentence above in the passive voice. (1)

Response activities and scaling up assistance will continue to be implemented by the UN and its partner organizations.

6.4.2 Comment on the shift in focus between the active and the passive voice. (2)

In the active voice, the UN and its partners are foregrounded as helping the victims whereas in the passive voice, the activities and the assistance is being foregrounded/prioritized.

6.5 Refer to the last sentence of the text.

“This is in addition to the 5.5 million people already targeted under the 2026 Humanitarian Response Plan, which requires US$632 million in funding.”

Identify the type of sentence and provide a reason for your answer. (2)
